Recruiting Information on Select Employers; last updated on 8/14/20

Information subject to change. Please note that this document will no longer be updated on a weekly basis. Please be sure to regularly check the company websites for new information and any application updates.

More than 200 companies have hired Master of Finance students. There are a few who have unusually early application deadlines. This document was created to help you get a head start on becoming aware of select employers with known early applications and deadlines. Students are advised to apply early for rolling applications to receive full consideration; however, you should not apply before you are ready or so early that it’s at the expense of the quality of your application.

If you are interested in these companies, we recommend you visit their websites and register to receive updates about upcoming events. It is important that you take ownership of your job search and check your target employers’ websites often for the latest information.

If you have a question, please email cdo.mitsloan@mit.edu.

- MFIN Full-time Seeking Coffee Chats wills be held throughout September sign up at www.mckinsey.com/MIT after Sept 1st
- From the moment candidates apply, they will be building relationships with future colleagues in their office or practice including interviewing with the office or practice they will join. We’ll no longer have MIT interview days. Offices will coordinate multiple dates, and students can choose what will best match their preferences and availability.
- Full-time Seeking Interviews – Targeting the weeks of September 14 and 21
- Internship Seeking Interviews – Targeting the weeks of September 21 and 28
- MFIN Internship Seeking Coffee Chats will be held throughout September sign up at www.mckinsey.com/MIT after Sept 1st

- Candidates only need to submit one application to access the full breadth of consulting roles in the Firm. If candidates are interested in deep technical roles, there is also a single application process.
- Candidates will be asked to tell us more about what’s important to them in a survey at application time (when they apply to US locations) – especially where candidates want to live and what kind of work they want to do.
- If candidates’ preferences evolve or circumstances change (during the application process or even after candidates join), we pride ourselves on accommodating them and see our new model as more readily enabling that.
